Part A: The Fundamentals

1. Corporate purpose

Unilever has a simple but clear purpose: to make sustainable living commonplace. We want to help create a world where everyone can live well within the natural limits of the planet. Our multi-stakeholder model is at the core of everything we do and we put sustainable living at the heart of this – including our brands and products, our high standards of corporate behaviour towards everyone we work with and our partnerships which drive transformational change across our value chain.

Our purpose is supported by our vision: to be the global leader in sustainable business, with a strategy to ensure that our purpose-led and future-fit business model drives superior performance, delivering long-term sustainable growth for the benefit of all our stakeholders.

2. Corporate structure

Unilever PLC, incorporated under the laws of England and Wales, is the parent company of the Unilever Group.

Between 1930, when the Unilever Group was formed, and 2020, the Unilever Group had a dual-headed structure with two parent companies: Unilever N.V., which was incorporated under the laws of the Netherlands, and PLC, incorporated under the laws of England and Wales.

In 2020 the Unilever Group unified its dual-parent structure, with PLC becoming the single parent company of the Unilever Group.

PLC is subject to different laws and regulations, corporate governance requirements and best practice codes; the most relevant being those in the United Kingdom, the Netherlands and the United States. As stated in the Code of Business Principles, Unilever will conduct its operations in accordance with internationally accepted principles of good corporate governance. It is therefore Unilever's practice to comply with the best practice represented by the aggregate of these best practice codes.

PLC is a holding and service company and the business activities of the Unilever Group are carried out by its subsidiaries around the world. Shares in these subsidiary companies are held ultimately by PLC.

3. The Board

3.1 General

The Board has ultimate responsibility for the management, general affairs, culture, direction, performance and long-term success of Unilever. The Board comprises both Executive Directors and a majority of Non-Executive Directors.

The rules governing the internal proceedings of the Board are included in the Governance of Unilever under Part B – Board Rules. The profile of the Board is set out in Appendix 8.

3.2 Committees

The Board has four Board Committees: the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee, the Corporate Responsibility Committee, and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

The Board has two Management Committees: the Disclosure Committee and the Global Code and Policy Committee.

The terms of reference of these Committees are set out in Appendices 2 through 6 and Appendix 7B. Further Committees of the Board may be established by the Board from time to time and the membership and terms of reference of the Committees can be modified by the Board.

3.3 Delegation

The Board has delegated certain of its powers, authorities and discretions (including the power to sub-delegate) to the Chief Executive Officer, to the Chief Financial Officer, and to the Committees.

Where the Board has delegated its powers, it supervises the execution of its responsibilities by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer and the Committees and is ultimately responsible for the fulfilment of the Board's duties by them. The process by which the Board passes resolutions to delegate and adopt these practices and procedures is set out in Appendix 9.

4. Code of Business Principles and Code Policies

The Code of Business Principles represents the standard of conduct which all Unilever employees are expected to meet in their business endeavours. It forms the benchmark against which the outside world is invited to judge Unilever's activities. The Code of Business Principles must be adhered to strictly and any amendment thereto must be approved by the Board. The Code of Business Principles is set out in Appendix 7A.

Code Policies that support the Code of Business Principles have been developed to provide a set of mandatory rules designed to ensure consistency in key areas within our worldwide operations. Code Policies are characterised by being universally applicable within Unilever and mandatory in effect. They govern the principles and practices of how we run our business.

Compliance with the Code of Business Principles and Code Policies is an essential element in our business success. The Board is responsible for ensuring that these standards of conduct are applied throughout Unilever. The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for implementing these standards of conduct and is supported in this by the Global Code and Policy Committee, which is chaired by the Chief Legal Officer.

Day-to-day responsibility is delegated to all senior management of the geographies, divisions, functions and operating companies. They are responsible for implementing these standards of conduct, supported by local Business Integrity Committees. Assurance of compliance is given, and monitored, each year.

Compliance is subject to review by the Board supported by the Corporate Responsibility Committee, and for financial and accounting issues by the Audit Committee.

5. Corporate Audit Charter

The Corporate Audit Charter is the external standard which is adopted by the Unilever Group in respect of its internal audits. The Corporate Audit Charter can be found at www.unilever.com/corporate-audit-charter.

5.1.3 Directors are nominated for re-election by the Board on the recommendation of the Nomination and Corporate Governance Committee which, in deciding whether to nominate a Director, takes into consideration the Chairman's annual evaluation of the individual. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will rarely recommend the re-election of a Non-Executive Director who has served for nine years.

5.2 Limitations

5.2.1 Executive and Non-Executive Directors hold office as long as they are appointed as such by the general meeting of PLC, unless they resign or are dismissed by the general meeting of PLC.

5.3.3 The Board will decide on the independence of a Non- Executive Director by applying these criteria to the particular circumstances of the individual concerned and will also consider, where relevant, the circumstances of immediate family members.

5.3.4 Where there are additional criteria for a member of the Audit Committee or the Compensation Committee to be considered 'independent' imposed by applicable laws and regulations, the Board will apply these criteria.

5.4 Collective responsibilities
